Alliance operates four key business units that have been pooled together as a strong and profitable source for customized plans and projects for clients spanning multiple industries. The company's key services include creative and design, printing and packaging, direct mailing, product development, supply chain management, project management, event marketing, business consulting and strategic marketing.

The long-term vision is for Alliance to become a one-stop-shop printing, packaging and product development company powered by synchronized business divisions with a shared vision to increase overall revenues and profits. As part of achieving this goal, Alliance has partnered with QualityStocks to increase brand awareness and transparency among the investment community.

"Alliance is a combination of companies leveraging their individual strengths to provide products and services to the consumer product goods industry," says Sorkin. "Since our inception 17 years ago, we have consistently expanded our specialties to add value to Alliance, its clients and shareholders. We continue to operate this multi-pronged business model today and are excited to partner with QualityStocks to promote our accomplishments and future plans to the broader marketplace," says Paul Sorkin, chief operating officer and general counsel of Alliance. "We want to make sure the Alliance brand secures and maintains traction in the broader public market, and in working with QualityStocks we intend to achieve this goal."

The new partnership gives Alliance access to QualityStocks' extensive suite of networks and solutions that work in harmony to add brand value and visibility, enhancing the company's foothold in the consumer products goods market.

QualityStocks Managing Director Michael McCarthy, stated, "Alliance is an established and proven company with demonstrated revenue growth and profitability. As the company makes plans to enter into additional key markets, we're honored to help them voice this progress to the investment community via the QualityStocks' Newsletter, Video and Blogs and other marketing tools."
