Energous Corporation Grants Inducement Awards of Restricted Stock Units to New Employees

SAN JOSE, CA -- (Marketwired) -- 12/29/14 -- Energous Corporation ("Energous" or "the Company") (NASDAQ: WATT), the developer of WattUp™, a disruptive wire-free charging technology for electronic devices that provides power at a distance with complete mobility under full software control, today announced it has issued inducement restricted stock units to eight new non-executive employees. The Company is making this announcement as required by NASDAQ rules.

To support the Company's stated growth plans, Energous continues to expand its marketing, engineering and administrative team further to support progress against its JDA commitments and to fully capitalize on its first-to-market opportunity. Securing experienced talent through equity participation is a key benefit of operating as a public company.

On December 24, 2014, eight new non-executive employees were issued restricted stock unit awards covering a total of 77,856 shares of common stock. The restricted stock unit awards vest in four equal annual installments beginning on the date of hire of each of the new employees. The awards were approved by the independent compensation committee of the Company's board of directors and were granted as an inducement material to the new employees entering into employment with the Company in accordance with NASDAQ Marketplace Rule 5635(c)(4).

About Energous Corporation

Energous Corporation is developing WattUp™, a wire-free charging technology that will transform the way people charge and power their electronic devices at home, in the office, in the car and beyond. WattUp is a revolutionary, patent-and trademark-pending solution that delivers intelligent, scalable power via the same radio bands as a Wi-Fi router. WattUp differs from current wireless charging systems in that it delivers meaningful, useable power, at a distance, allowing users to roam while charging. The result is a wire-free experience that saves users from having to remember to plug in their devices or place them on a mat. Energous will initially license WattUp to the wearable and mobile-accessory markets and will expand to other markets such as Wi-Fi routers and smartphones over time.
