

Enhance Your Efficiency and Customer Service With PrecisionIR's Investor Hotline

Seamless Fulfillment System

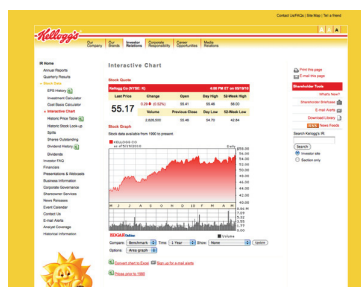

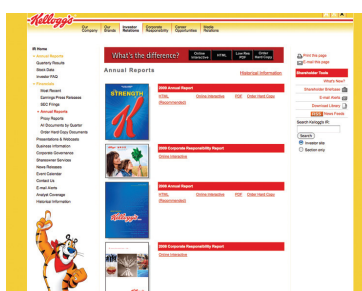

Your PrecisionIR's Investor Hotline is a seamless extension to your IR website that allows you to quickly meet requests for financial documents from shareholders and prospective investors while allowing your IR staff to focus their time on other important tasks.

Easy Ordering for Your Investors

Investor Hotline makes it easy for prospective investors to order your current investor kit—and any other financial information you want to make available—by phone, email, internet or mail. We take care of the rest, including storage, shipping, and customer service. All information requests are fulfilled the next business day, either by hard copy, electronic download, or CD.

More Efficient and Effective for You

Clients using Investor Hotline report increased productivity and service levels. And every investor who requests your information is added to the database of investors we maintain for you as part of your PrecisionIR service, allowing you to contact them with future updates. In addition, you can also use Investor Hotline to gather investor feedback. We'll collect the comments and send them directly to you via email.

Let our team help you reach investors with effective and efficient IR Websites
